

Upper F-pan - The Mental Block

The next couple of routes are located around the corner from the Mage, and face east.

9. And Again 5.11

The leftmost route on the wall, move up to a small roof then follow techy climbing up the face above. Shares an anchor with the next climb. Gear and bolts.

10. The Edge of Destruction 5.11

A hard start (crux) leads to easier climbing above. Shares a bolt with the next route, but head up and left into the corner where that route goes right. Gear and bolts.

11. Bullets and Bourbon 5.10-

Climb the obvious crack up to bolts, then trend right into the upper corner. May be used to access the Upper Mental Block. Gear to #2 Camalot, 2 bolts.

12. Leighway 5.9

Climb the obvious lower angled crack right of the previous climb. Anchors are way up on the ledge, best access to Upper Mental Block. Gear to #4 Camalot.

The following routes start off the upper ledge, called the Upper Mental Block. Leighway is the most popular way to access this spacious ledge.

13. Clandestino 5.12c/d

Climb the thin roof crack on the far left side of the ledge. TCUs and cams to #2 Camalot. (not pictured)

14. The Macaw 5.10

Climb the obvious crack right of the previous route. Gear to #3 Camalot. 30 meters. (not pictured)

15. Hurricane Kita 5.10

Climb the flake with a bolt down low and bolts above. Gear to #2 Camalot. 30 meters.

16. Via Viva 5.12c

The beautiful bolted dihedral with a crux at the top. One large nut protects the runout between the first and second bolt.

17. G Spot 5.12c

Climb the bolted arête right of Via Viva. Bolts.

18. The Drunk Tank 5.11

The dihedral/chimney just right of G Spot. 4 bolts to the thin crack then TCUs and cams to #1 Camalot.

brought to you by
www.splitterchoss.com

