

Redstone Bouldering - The Loft

This area was discovered and developed in the last couple of years. It offers a change of pace from the regular circuit at Redstone. Problems have been given quality stars based on the developer's opinion, your mileage may vary.

To get to these boulders, follow the trail from the Stein Boulder north and then east to the Weider Boulder. The trail to the Loft continues from the southwest corner of the Weider Boulder and heads up towards the hillside, passing through a clearing along the way. The boulders should be obvious.
